FOREWORD

This volume lists all publications of the several Historical Records Survey Projects programs of the Work Projects Administration, the issues of two related programs, the Survey of Federal Archives and the Inventory of American Imprints, and appendices in which is listed material pertinent to these programs. This is the final volume and supersedes WPA Research and Records Bibliography No. 4, issued September 12, 1940, and Research and Records Bibliography No. 4, revised, issued September 1, 1941.

As Historical Records Survey publications were issued in limited editions, their distribution was largely confined to a nationwide selection of libraries and certain regional depositories, which would make them available to a maximum number of users, each state project in addition sending copies to an intrastate list. The Library of Congress has assumed custodianship of surplus copies and although the supply is incomplete, depositories may be able to secure missing copies by addressing their requests to the Government Publications Reading Room, Library of Congress, Washington, D. C.

NOTICE

This work was reproduced by the photo-offset process from the original mimeographed edition. A characteristic of mimeographed copy—from which the offset printer must work—is that the copy is often very light and uneven, while at the same time over-inking may be present, such as, for example, when individual letters appear as a smear. Every effort has been made by our photo-offset printer to produce as fine a reprint of the original mimeographed edition as possible.

PREFACE

This is a final listing of Historical Records Survey publications issued between 1936 and 1943. In a few States the Survey of Federal Archives and the American Imprints Inventory projects remained administratively separate from the Historical Records Survey, but followed the technical procedures established for the Survey. After September 1939, Survey publications in Arizona and Montana were issued under the names of the Arizona State Archival and Records Project and the Montana Inventory of Public Archives. In 1942, related Service Division projects in each State Work Projects Administration program were consolidated into one project known as the "War Services Project", in order to effect economies in operation as the number of available workers diminished. This explains the differing project names frequently appearing on the title pages of the publications listed.

Every attempt has been made to list all the Survey program publications issued in each State. It is anticipated, however, that in compiling this final listing of approximately 1,600 entries there is a small percentage of omissions.

Appendix I lists those records that were microfilmed as an incidental function of the respective State Historical Records Survey projects. This list does not include any other microfilming work done by the Work Projects Administration.

For those interested in the development of the Survey programs, Appendix II supplies a list of important articles and papers written by various members of the survey staff, and by others acquainted with the purpose, philosophy, techniques and results of the various phases of the Survey program. Titles of technical manuals will be found in Appendix III, and published reports and summaries issued by a number of the State projects in Appendix IV.

A large amount of material gathered by the Survey was in varying stages of completion when the program was discontinued, a volume estimated to be eight or ten times greater than the volume of material represented by the publications listed in this final check list. State Work Projects Administration offices were instructed first to prepare detailed inventories and then to deposit the files of unpublished material in State depositories, where it would be most accessible for public use. Appendix V presents for most of the States the name and location of the depository in which these files are deposited. Copies of all available State lists of unpublished materials are located in the Library of Congress, The National Archives, and The Federal Works Agency Library, Washington, D. C.; in each State depository; and frequently are on deposit with State sponsors of the various State projects.

For the convenience of librarians who desire to obtain catalog cards for publications for which cards have been printed, the Library of Congress catalog card order numbers are supplied.

This listing supercedes all previous listings of Historical Records Survey publications.
